FOUR RETURN OPTIONS FOR DHL RETOURE INTERNATIONAL

1. Your customer service team books the returns

Your customer service team records your customers' return requests and enters them into DHL's booking interface. The return labels are e-mailed to your customers as a PDF file that can be easily printed out.

THE BENEFITS FOR YOU

- You offer customers a convenient, personal and free returns service.
- You control the creation of return labels.

2. Your customers book their returns online – a service partially integrated into your website

A link on your website takes customers directly to the online form for booking the DHL Retoure International service. The form is used to generate a return label as a PDF that can be easily printed out.

THE BENEFITS FOR YOU

- You offer your customers 24/7 access to a free service on your website.
- You decide where to position the link on your website.
- You reduce your process costs and the workload of your customer service team.

3. Your customers book their returns online – a service fully integrated into your website

You integrate the booking interface for DHL returns into your website, allowing you to define the entire process. Your customers can print their return label directly from the application, using a link to a web-based service.

THE BENEFITS FOR YOU

- You increase the attractiveness of your website offering.
- You offer customers the option of booking a return at any time.
- You save time and money and still offer outstanding customer service.

4. Your customers receive a fully prepared return label with their delivery

When using this option, you create and print a return label for every outbound item and enclose it in the shipment. The label can be requested during the picking process, using the link with the API Retoure.

THE BENEFITS FOR YOU

- You enhance the attractiveness of your online shop with the help of a simple and easy returns process – and provide a better shopping experience!
- You make return labels directly available to your customers so that they don't even need a printer.
- You decrease the number of customer service requests and thus lower your costs.
